LADIES ASSOCIATION of WALDEN

Christmas is almost here! Where did 2023 go? Did you reach your goals? What have you been grateful for? Christmas is a time when we reflect upon the gift God gave to us, His son. I thank God every day for giving me the opportunity to move to Walden to be near my children and grandchildren.

I believe in miracles, do you? I witness miracles almost daily. The friends I have met, the groups I belong to, the church we go to and all the activities here in Walden are all miracles to me. My marriage is a miracle as my husband, and I will celebrate our 55th wedding Anniversary on November 30.

I look forward to the Christmas season when families and friends gather and share food and fellowship. Take the time to check on your neighbors, stop and enjoy the season, but most of all be grateful for the Blessings that God has bestowed upon this community.

The LAW Woman of the Year will be announced at our January meeting. Follies tickets' information will be published in January.

Many thanks to Lesley Haenny and Laura Archibald and their Expo team for working so hard to make the Walden EXPO a continued success. Good job, ladies. The winners of the gift cards were Annette Gilliam and Mary Gordon. Congratulations, ladies.

I would like to thank Jean Mason for volunteering to take charge of our annual food drive this year. Members may bring canned goods and ingredients for a Thanksgiving dinner to our December meeting.

~ Merry Christmas ~

Jean Hebert, President, Ladies Association of Walden

MEN'S ASSOCIATION of WALDEN

The November 3rd Men's Breakfast was well attended to hear Walden's CIA General Manager, Rusty Denner and the new Food & Beverage Director, Jesse Cole. Both Rusty and Jesse gave us some insight into their backgrounds and then talked about some of their goals for the future.

Rusty talked a lot about our aging infrastructure and the need for some upgrades and repairs. Examples were the major settling in the CIA Administration building, the boat ramps, bulkheads and need to replace the stoves in Walden's Lakeview Dining kitchen. He also mentioned a few already completed projects including the new Yacht Club ADA exterior elevator and repair of the decking around the upstairs main Dining area and downstairs soffit.

Jesse gave us an update on how they will go about analyzing the menus, plan for more specials such as Pasta Night, and maybe even having a monthly Chef's Special. Jesse then introduced our new Executive Chef, Chef Adam and also announced that Jodi Christie will be assisting in managing the Breakwater Grille and Jean Hopkins will be assisting with inside banquet sales.

December 2023

IN THE garden

By Margie Barlow
Montgomery County Master Gardener (2002)
MargieLBarlow@gmail.com

From all of my past articles in December, you know that there is really nothing to do in December. If we are going to get a really cold snap, water your potted plants really well or at least cover them with frost cloth. Do not use plastic. We are supposed to be having a wet and cold winter so I feel that all the shrubs will be just fine. On October 26th we had a huge storm pass through, and I recorded 5 inches of rain. Yeah, we really needed it.

This made a perfect time to cut my grass really short (2 ½ inches on the mower blade) and then I applied 100 lbs. of winter rye. The first cold snap will kick start the germination process and hopefully when I return home from Mexico, I will see the start of a really nice winter green yard.

This month is the time to enjoy family and friends and celebrate the Christmas Season and Hanukkah. Please pray for world peace this season.

I came across something in my daily devotional and thought it fitting to pass on. BIBLE: Basic Instructions Before Leaving Earth

Tip of the Month:

God intends for you to use His Word as your guidebook for life ... your intentions should be the same.

Have a safe and joyous New Years.
